

Omnitron is built horizontally (it forms a three-sided box). The others are built vertically (they form a pyramid).

When cutting up this sheet, be sure to keep an eye on which “glue” sections go with which unit so that you don’t accidentally cut the “glue” sections off in the wrong places.

